Levin urges graduates to find balance with work, family and community

Alan B. Levin was the third member of his family to have been honored at Goldey-Beacom—preceded by his father and his mother. Alan reminded the graduates that they will be in competition with others located worldwide so they needed “to work harder than you ever thought possible. That does not mean just putting in the time, it means also working smarter.”

He said, “You have a brain. Don’t be afraid to use it.” He then quoted George S. Patton, saying, “if you do your full duty, the rest will take care of itself.” Alan added, “for my children that same rule applies. Go out and do something on your own...and give it your best.”

After discussing the need to be ethical in business, he went on to say that you need to “take a little and leave a lot.” You need to “give back to the community...” He closed by reminding the graduates “to spend time with your family” and “your life...will be so much more complete.”

Levin serves on the boards of the Delaware Symphony Orchestra, Wesley College, and the American Red Cross, to name only a few. Alan and Happy Harry’s have worked diligently to raise over a million dollars for the Delaware Kidney Fund, established by the Levin Family.

Mr. Levin was presented with an honorary Doctor of Business Administration degree during the graduation ceremony. He has led Happy Harry’s since the loss of his father in 1987, guiding the growth of this retail drug chain from 19 stores to the current 75.

Also during the ceremony, faculty member Dr. Deanna Merritt was recognized with the Excellence in Teaching Award.

Congratulations again to the 375 graduates who celebrated their accomplishments at this year’s 118th commencement at Goldey-Beacom College. The College welcomes you as alumni and hopes you will keep your ties to the college by being active participants in the Alumni Association. Best wishes for your continued success, prosperity, and happiness.

Alan B. Levin, President, Chairman & CEO of Happy Harry’s, was joined by his mother, Diane Levin Widder, who is a member of the College’s Board of Trustees and also a past recipient of an honorary doctorate.

MBA graduates have contributed a wealth of experience to the education program at GBC.

GBC faculty and staff are confident that the Class of 2005 has the knowledge and skills needed to be successful in their business endeavors.

College receives landmark grant of $1,000,000 for scholars fund

Goldey-Beacom College has received a $1,000,000 grant from The Goizueta Foundation, located in Atlanta, Georgia. The gift will endow The Joseph West Jones Scholars Fund and provide need-based scholarship assistance annually for Goldey-Beacom College students.

The Goizueta Foundation was founded in 1992 by Roberto C. Goizueta, former Chairman of The Board and Chief Executive Officer of the Coca-Cola Company. The gift honors the remarkable career of Georgetown, Delaware native, Joseph West Jones, who graduated from Beacom College in 1932.

Jones enjoyed a meteoric and inspirational career with The Coca-Cola Company beginning in 1935. Jones served as Assistant Treasurer and secretarial assistant to Chairman Robert W. Woodruff. He was elected to the Board of Directors in 1980 and became Senior Vice President in 1981.

Dr. Gary L. Wirt, Vice President of Goldey-Beacom, expressed the school’s delight with the award, “There could be no better way to honor this remarkable man than to provide scholarship assistance to eager young students. Joe has never forgotten his Delaware roots or his education at Beacom College, which he credits for his great success. It is fitting that the largest gift in our college’s history would honor our most distinguished alumnus.”

Jones entered Beacom College in 1930. He graduated in 1932 with a certificate in Commercial Studies
