News for Alumni and the Greater College Community

Graduates encouraged to keep ties to College community

In his commencement address, Robert V. A. Harra, Jr., President of Wilmington Trust, encouraged the 2006 graduating class to maintain their ties to the College. He stated, "...your relationship with Goldey-Beacom should not end--not today or ever. Instead, it should enter a new and equally rewarding phase, for it is to everyone's benefit that the relationship continue to grow. As you give something back to an institution which has done a lot for you, the College will surely benefit. As you work to strengthen Goldey-Beacom, those who follow in your footsteps will likewise benefit...you, yourself, will benefit from the experience."

Mr. Harra was awarded with an honorary Doctor of Business Administration degree during the ceremony. He was recognized for outstanding business achievements as well as his commitment to the community. Harra currently serves as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Grand Opera House, and has served as a board member of The Salvation Army, United Way of Delaware, and the Riverfront Development Corporation, to name a few. The Harra family also has strong ties to the College. Linda Harra, his wife, was recently elected as

Robert V. A. Harra, Jr. addressed graduates and was awarded with an Honorary Doctor of Business Administration degree during the graduation ceremony.

Chairperson of the College's Board of Trustees, and his mother was a 1938 graduate of Goldey-Beacom.

The Excellence in Teaching Award was presented to Dr. Fatma Abdel-Raouf.

Congratulations again to our 384 graduates. Best wishes for your continued success, prosperity, and happiness.

GBC celebrates three accreditations in one year

During the 2005-06 academic year, Goldey-Beacom College successfully completed self-study and evaluation team visits for each of its three accreditations. The College has received official notification that it has been awarded reaffirmation by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, from the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP), and from the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education.

Vice President Gary L. Wirt described the exhaustive process that was involved. "Each accreditation requires a separate, lengthy self-study document, which compiles extensive documentation, measures of quality, and recommendations for improvement. The entire campus was involved – students, faculty, staff, and alumni." The report is then followed by a visiting evaluation team comprised of academic professionals from other accredited campuses. The teams not only review documents, but also interview students, faculty, trustees, and alumni.

Wirt served as Self-Study Co-Chair with Associate Professor Julie Burkey. Burkey described the three accreditations as "an unquestionable seal of approval, indicating the quality and rigor in our business education." Each accreditor has carefully written standards which schools must meet. Burkey and Wirt emphasized that Goldey-Beacom College is the only school in Delaware to earn all three accreditations.

College President Mohammad Ilyas stressed that this is an exhaustive review process undertaken every ten years, but pointed out "The remarkable success is that each of the accreditations came with commendations for the College's performance. We applaud the entire College community for their hard work."

Alumni recognize DAG inductees for career and civic achievements

GBC alumni honored three of their own at the Distinguished Alumni Gallery Induction Banquet. New DAG inductees Ronald A. Morris '66, and Mark R. Olazagasti '85, as well as Rising Star recipient Marcia D. Bryan '94, were recognized for their professional achievements as well as for their commitment to their communities.

Ron Morris is a Certified Government Financial Manager working as the Director of Finance for the City of Wilmington. Outside of work, Ron spends time in the community raising funds for various schools, churches, and nonprofit organizations.

Since graduation Mark Olazagasti continues to serve GBC. He currently serves as President of the College's Alumni Association Board of Directors. Additionally, Olazagasti is Committee Chairperson of the Open Net Ice Hockey Tournament and is Founding Member of the Open Net Foundation. Mark is the Director of Consulting & Integration Services at MTM Technologies.

Marcia Bryan is a Certified Public Accountant working for Cadmus Professional Communications as Plant Controller. She sits on the Board of Directors for the Caroline County United Way, participates in the local March of Dimes, Cure for Diabetes, and Relay for Life Walk-a-Thons.

College President Mohammad Ilyas presented the DAG Award to Ron Morris. Morris has written numerous financial publications for New Castle County and the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada.

Marcia is the only female and the youngest Plant Controller at Cadmus. She directs and controls all financial functions for the specialty printing facility with sales volumes in excess of $50 million. Marcia celebrated the evening with her husband Joe.

Mark Olazagasti was thrilled to have son Alex and father Milton share in his achieving a life-long goal—being inducted into the DAG Gallery. In addition to this honor, Mark received the Rising Star Award in 1998 and the Alumnus of the Year Award for 2000-2001. A footnote - Mark's father was once the GBC soccer coach.

Past and present DAG members gather after the ceremonies.

At age 100, Robert E. Hickman, DAG '90, is the oldest, living member of the Distinguished Alumni Gallery. He credits his longevity to staying active and pursuing his passions. Mr. Hickman is an accomplished bird sculptor and, up until two years ago, was an avid gardener.

Alumni Snapshot

Based in New York City, Brett Davis '04 is actively working in the modeling field. He has been featured in several national advertising campaigns that include two Wendy's commercials, as well as, TV ads on ESPN and for Dannon Yogurt. Perhaps you have seen him in Vanity Fair or the new Casual Male clothing commercial.

2006 Winter and Spring Lightning Athletics Recap

Golf Team wins NCAA-II Regional and advances to national championship

The GBC men's golf team captured the NCAA-II Regional title and advanced to the NCAA National Championship. Senior Michael Tobiason also won the individual title at the NCAA-II Regional and was co-champion at the CACC Championship. Tobiason shared the conference title with teammate Steven Cutler.

Three-time CACC Golf Coach of the Year, Jim Mahoney, has announced his retirement. Mahoney, who started the golf program in 2001 and has found nothing but success since its onset, leaves the College after five years of service. "It has been a great run and I have thoroughly enjoyed my five seasons as head coach at GBC," stated Mahoney.

Softball Team earns bid to conference playoffs

The Goldey-Beacom College softball team finished the season with an overall record of 17-21 (14-8 CACC). The Lightning qualified for the CACC Playoffs for the third consecutive year.

Women's basketball advances to CACC Playoffs for 1st time in program's history

The Lightning qualified for the CACC Tournament for the first time in school history as they finished with a 6-22 (6-18 CACC) record. Junior Kim Rowley surpassed the 1,000 point milestone on February 18.

Men's basketball team finishes season 15-12

The 2005-2006 season was the best showing for the Lightning since the 1999-2000 season as the team finished 15-12 (10-12 CACC). Senior Nate Lewis eclipsed the 1,000 point career mark on February 4, and Coach Hammond was named CACC Coach of the Year for his team's efforts.

Honor's Day Celebration

Mark Olazagasti '85, Alumni Association President, presents Crystal Mabon '08 with the GBC Alumni Association Scholarship Award. Crystal is pursuing a Bachelor of Science degree in Management.

You are cordially invited

Alphi Chi celebrates 25 years at GBC

Alpha Chi is celebrating the Silver Anniversary of its charter at GBC with the Fall Induction, October 18, 2006, at 5:30 in the Michele Rollins Atrium. Goldey-Beacom's Alpha Chi has an impressive record. Two GBC students have won national awards and at least 16 members have won regional scholarships.

In 1998, the GBC chapter was named Outstanding Chapter of the Nation. All of these achievements are due to the dedicated members.

Thanks to a generous donation from the Alumni Association, a 25th Anniversary Celebration will be held. Join us for the Silver Anniversary celebration October 18, 2006. Please contact Dr. Kneavel, kneavel@gbc.edu or Mimi Hoffman at mimi_hoffman@ahm.honda.com.
